THE BUNK IN PSYCHIATRY

Of all the tricks and devices used to save the criminal from the consequences of his act, insanity is the most artful and specious. And yet if a man commits a desperate and fiendish murder it is presumed, in most cases, that he was of unsound mind. That, however, should not act as a deterrent against satisfaction of the law.

For this reason the three common pleas judges in Toledo who have handed down a decision declaring that Charles Hoppe must pay the extreme penalty on October 26 for the brutal killing of a seven-year-old girl, are entitled to the commendation of every respectable man and woman in Ohio.

It is quite likely that the usual hushabout will be raised to save the illiterate Hoppe from the electric chair. But, in view of the unanimous decision of the three Lucas county jurists, it may be presumed that the supreme court will merely affirm the ruling of the lower court.

The cases of Hickman, Remus and others of that stripe of playfellows with psychiatric antibodies for justice, bring everyone to wonderment as to how far delays in such situations are to be permitted in the future—as to how long horseplay will have the edge on common sense in dealing with instances of cold-blooded and extraordinarily hideous homicide—like the Hoppe case, for example.

Today jurors without any technical training, generally of no more than average lay education, are permitted to have their own opinions regarding the sanity of an offender or to reject the testimony of medical experts, with the to be regretted result that the structure of justice in many states is being steadily undermined.

In Toledo, everything possible was done to save the killer, Hoppe, from the fate he so richly deserves. Not only did Hoppe kill a seven-year-old girl for no reason at all except the satisfaction of a blood lust, but, according to his own statement, he was responsible for the death of at least one other person, and the clubbing of half a dozen others. Of course Hoppe was mad when he committed these crimes. Any man would be mad to launch himself on such a career. But during his periods of lucidity, when he would plot other heinous offenses, he was smart enough to outwit the police department and strolled the streets of Toledo with impunity.

That stripe of man is most dangerous to society. He is a constant menace. And an asylum is not the place for him. In short time he would be pardoned or paroled—like Remus—and what would prevent him returning to his evil ways? In the Hoppe case it is hoped the law takes its course in an orderly way, yet expeditiously.

The Toledo case will be a lesson to other evildoers.

METHOD QUESTIONABLE

There can be little doubt but what the St. Charles, a 125-room Milwaukee hotel, merited the padlocking which has been adjudged against it. Unquestionably, it was a nuisance within the meaning of the Volstead law, and the court could not well have done other than order the padlocking of the entire hotel, as it did, on the showing made by two dry under-cover men who became guests of the hotel for three months to make a case against its proprietor.

Both told how they had occupied several different rooms in the hostelry, of the gin they had purchased from bell boys while residing there, of wild parties with chorus girls, and of hearing boisterous talking and laughing, indicating other drunken orgies in various parts of the hotel.

During their three months' sojourn at the hotel they purchased scores of bottles of liquor for the consumption of the chorus girl tenants and participated in numerous wild parties, they admitted. The greater part of the liquor, purchased with the government's money, was drunk by chorus girls, according to testimony of the under-cover agents. It may be necessary to meet fire with fire to beat the devil at his own game. It may be that the end justifies the means, but a story such as this leaves a bad taste in the mouth. It is a matter for regret that the prohibition law can not be enforced without the inauguration of such campaigns to develop crime that crime may be apprehended. And if two enforcement officers give all their time for three months to the padlocking of one hotel, how many officers will it take and how many years, to make the country dry?

One in sympathy with the cause of temperance regrets that methods such as employed in this Milwaukee case are deemed necessary to bring about the accomplishment of that cause. Certainly a nuisance so notorious could have been abated without the utilization of the methods employed.

What Others Say

WORSE THAN RAINES LAW
Commercialized vice today, according to the committee of 14, is a more serious social menace than in the old days of the Raines law hotel. Not the entire responsibility rests with the Volstead law. The committee's report deals in part with the dance hall, which is a phenomenon antedating prohibition. It is precisely in the 20 years since the committee of 14 has been functioning that the dance craze has swept the world. The public ballroom is part of the response to the demand for more and worse dancing. Inevitably it was bound to supply a field of operations for the once-famous "cater" and a general market place for prostitution. Other agencies before this have reported on conditions in the dance halls with their staffs of "hostesses," from whom incidentally the committee of 14 finds the night club and speakeasy "hostesses" to be recruited in large measure. This phase of the problem is not essentially connected with liquor. Without prohibition we should still have to take cognizance of the promiscuity of the dance "palace" and its facilities for what a more Puritan age used to call "temptation."

When we come to conditions in the night club and speakeasy there is no room for disagreeing with the committee's findings that vice conditions are more disturbing than they were 20 years ago. This is said both of the volume of vice and of the manner of its exploitation. It is the second feature that will bite in hardest on the public conscience. The old saloon back room and the old Raines law hotels carried a brand which was a safeguard for the unsuspecting and the self-respecting. The speakeasy and the night club draw young men and women, to whom they are part of metropolitan "life." Like the pocket flask, the speakeasy is often youth's defiance to restraint, or a display of the sporting instinct. The night club has become a regular theater feature, by many today approached in a spirit not different from the after-theater restaurant of former times. But in the speakeasy and night clubs investigated by the committee of 14 it was found that 85 per cent were identified with traffic, and of its women habitués two-thirds were professionals.

Young people are thus exposed to contacts which would have been impossible in former days and from which they would shrink even today in the public dance halls. The Raines law hotels, the saloon back rooms and the dives were subject to police intervention. The speakeasy is exempt, except in the case of public disturbances. It is significant that the committee of 14 should have been compelled to restrict its investigations because the cost of repeated visits to obtain evidence was "prohibitive." That high cost and the comparative difficulty of access and the general sense of adventure are among the lures that draw the young people; and for that state of mind prohibition stands responsible.—New York Times.

ALTHOUGH there is augury of excellent prospects in certain directions on this day, holding by lunar and mutual configurations, yet there will be a stubborn obstacle difficult to surmount. This should be vigorously attacked and the splendid prospect for increase, and this will be assisted by a mind alert and strengthened by good judgment and discernment and steered by ambition.

Those whose birthday it is are to have a year to test their stability and power to rise above a stubborn obstruction, but their minds will be found spurred to action, with sharp business acumen and ambition to rise to the predicted increase growth and gain of finances and new connections, possibly with large corporations or countries. A child born on this day should have many excellent qualities for success, prosperity and general advancement, but it may have a stubborn obstacle or hindrance to overcome. Its fine mental equipment should assist it.

LOW VITALITY INVITES ALL COMMON COLDS

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

All sorts of efforts have been made to find the germ of the common cold. If it is due to a germ, it may well be that it is one so small as to be invisible by the aid of any microscope yet invented.

Colds can be passed on from one person to another. This shows that there is some sort of infective material. It may be carried through the nasal or other secretions of the ill person to the well one. If the well person is really properly fed, free from undue fatigue and functioning normally, he is likely to be safe. There must be lowered vitality, as well as the presence of the infective substance, in order to "catch cold."

The scientists have taken the secretions from diseased tissues, passed them through a stone filter, and caught the clear fluid which results. Under the microscope the liquid appears entirely free from visible substance, yet it may be capable of producing disease. It may contain what is called a "filterable virus." That is, it possesses in its solution some sort of poison, which will cause definite symptoms of disease.

Several American and foreign scientists claim that common colds are caused by a filterable virus. They contend that colds may be produced by the filtrate, prepared as I have told you.

There is much to support the theory that colds are "catching," that they may be passed from one person to another. In sneezing and coughing, in talking loudly and in spitting, the spray containing the infective material is thrown out and may be inhaled by another. Soiled hands may carry the secretions. The eating utensils and toilet articles may do the same thing.

The cold need not start in the nose, although it generally does. Ordinarily the first symptoms are running of the nose and sneezing. But the trouble may begin as a sore throat, or it may take the form of bronchitis. No matter where it begins it will not be long before the whole head and upper part of the chest are involved.

The lining membranes of the nose, throat, mouth and breathing apparatus are continuous. As soon as inflammation begins in one place it gradually extends until all the mucous membranes of the head are involved.

At first there is redness and swelling of the membranes. Then there is increased secretion, first of the watery element and later of the thicker or mucus element. The trouble creeps along, searching out every part of the nose, dipping down into the nasal accessory cavities, extending to the throat, going up the Eustachian tubes to the ear and traveling along into the voice box. Eventually it reaches the bronchial tubes and lungs.

You have learned what a cold really is and how it develops. You know that it is infectious or "catching" and that you must be careful of others or they will suffer. You should take precautions to guard yourself against its dangers.

Snooping One Of Leading Diversions Of American Public, Dry Agents Say

Washington, July 19.—Snooping is getting to be one of the leading diversions of the American public.

And snoopers are most active in telling the prohibition office about "friends" and neighbors who are keeping something on tap for a party or to ward off a cold.

Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran disclosed today that thousands of anonymous messages and telephone calls are received by the federal dry service throughout the country, containing tips on violations of the Volstead act.

Most Go Unnoticed
When these tips apply to serious violations, such as operation of stills, or wholesale bootlegging, they are investigated, but reports of hip-pocket totting or that somebody has a half pint in his ice box, usually go unnoticed except in the offices of the exceptionally conscientious administrator.

A large percentage of the dry raids made in the country both by federal and local agents are the results of anonymous messages of the snooping element. Officials admitted that in some cases the informers probably are conscientious citizens striving to assist in breaking up the liquor traffic, but in a majority of instances they undoubtedly are mere busybodies.

Tips Sometimes Used
Federal dry officials do not encourage snooping, but it was pointed out that it is frequently necessary to run down tips on violations. These tips have resulted in some important convictions. Many of them result in nothing.

There are about 200 informers actually paid by the federal prohibition bureau, receiving $7 a day. The informers work an average of two weeks and then drop their jobs or are replaced. Informers are required to "deliver" if they get federal pay.

Some of them are waiters in big city night clubs, and hotels, active bootleggers, denizens of the underworld, society women, club men and others who volunteer their services, representing that they have a knowledge of violations and the ability to furnish information that will result in convictions.

Snooping Condemned
Snooping—under the name of information anonymously received—came in for some information discussion at the national conference of dry administrators today and in general was condemned.

No official was willing to take the responsibility of appealing to the public to call the police or a federal dry officer every time a small violation of the liquor laws was discovered.

Attention was called to paragraph 14 of the official dry agents manual, putting the ban on petty activities. The paragraph says:

"Snooping Get Small Cases
"Subject to the order of their official superiors, prohibition officers, so far as possible will concentrate particular attention upon matters of major importance. Where local laws are adequate and local officers efficiently carry them into effect, the small cases should be left to their attention.

This does not apply where there are no local dry laws or where state and municipal officers neglect to enforce existing statutes.

To Urge Building Of Good Air Fields

Chicago, July 19.—Towns and cities all over the United States are responding to the urge of the Department of Commerce for more airports. Intermediate fields and auxiliary fields have been added to the 1,600 available at the close of last year, figures obtained by the American Air Transport association have revealed. In addition to these classified fields that are more than 4,000 other fields owned by states, municipalities, commissions and various organizations on which landings may be made.

The great majority of these fields are municipally owned or operated and operation efforts have been made by cities on air mail routes to improve their fields while cities anxious to be included in the expanding lines of air mail routes are, in many cases, acquiring and developing landing fields.

TWO PRISONERS' ESCAPE FOILED

Quiz Guards After Break For Liberty by Toledo, California Men

Atlanta, July 19 — Roy Gardner, notorious California mail robber, and Joe Urbaytis, of Toledo, Ohio, were in solitary confinement in federal prison today while a searching investigation was under way into their attempted escape late yesterday.

Both prisoners attempted to shoot their way out. Warden John W. Snook, declaring his belief that guns were smuggled into the prison in yarn shipments for use in the prison mills, closely questioned a dozen guards.

John W. Buntz, guard, struck in the face by an iron bar as the prisoners made their dash is recovering. After covering two guards with guns the prisoners attempted to place a ladder at the stockade walls but were balked by Guard Hays on the wall.

Shots were exchanged and the prisoners, using Capt. Parker as cover, went back into the prison to take his keys from him. Parker, however, dashed at them. In the fighting Buntz was struck. Other guards rushed up and held the prisoners at bay with guns.

GERMAN PRESS ATTACKS NOBILE

Berlin July 19 — An attack upon Gen. Umberto Nobile was printed today by the Deutsch Tageszeitung as the German press is generally joining Scandinavian papers in criticizing the conduct of the Nobile expedition.

Bahounek in order to drop the Italian flag upon the North pole on the anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war against a country whose hospitality he had enjoyed shortly before. That he also had the mad taste to drop the pope's cross at the same time is merely another side light."

OPENING HIGHER
New York, July 19.—Opening in the stock market was generally higher with trading active. Radio Corporation advanced 11 points to 171 1/2, and Wright Aero also strong yesterday, advanced 1/2 to 152 1/2. American Lingerie jumped 2 points to 109. Sears Roebuck moved upward a point to 117 1/2, and United States Steel advanced 1/2 to 171 1/2. Montgomery Ward recorded a 3/4 advance to 161 1/2, and American Can a gain of 1/2 to 84 1/2.

Motors were firmer. General Motors was up 1/2 to 190; Chrysler up 1/2 to 74 1/2; Hudson up 1/2 to 82 1/2; Packard up 1/2 to 68 1/2; and Curtiss Aeroplane up 1/2 to 103 1/2.

Rails were inactive.

After opening fractionally higher, the stock market became weak in afternoon and along toward noon a decidedly irregular undertone prevailed. General Motors was down 1/2 to 189 1/2; U. S. Steel up 1/2 to 172 1/2; General Electric up 1/2 to 147 1/2; Chrysler 1/2 higher at 73 1/2; Radio Corporation down 1/2 to 169 1/2; Montgomery Ward down 1/2 to 160 1/2; Wright Aero down 3/4 to 149 1/2; Hupp Motor up 1/2 to 73 1/2; American Can up 1/2 to 84 1/2; American Tel. & Tel. down 1/2 to 117 1/2; and Curtiss Aeroplane 2 points lower at 103 1/2.

Victor Talking Machine advanced 1/2 on revival of reports of a possible merger with Radio Corporation of America. Edward E. Schumaker, president of Victor, said he still believed that the two companies may get together and that he anticipates further negotiations to this end.

The bullish sentiment that was in evidence at the first hour today was largely due to encouraging overnight news. Reports of earnings for the first half of the year made by various companies were generally of a satisfactory nature. Another bullish factor was the increase of 11,500 cars over last year in the latest weekly freight statistics.

Steel stocks were in special demand in early dealings under the stimulus of enthusiasm in trade circles regarding the outlook of the industry.

Call money opened at 5 1/2 per cent.

"Get All You Can, Give All You Can," John D.'s Motto

Rounding Corner of 89, His Philosophy the Same as at 60

By GRAHAM STEWART
International Illustrated News Staff Writer

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, Sr., is one of the richest men in America—and one of the sanest. When he turned the corner of his eighty-ninth birthday he celebrated the event according to long-established custom. The immediate members of his family gathered at Pocantico Hills, certain cronies dropped in and a few neighbors called and extended their congratulations.

To these the Oil King repeated a piece of philosophy that he had promulgated at sixty.

"I believe it is a religious duty to get all of the money you can, fairly and honestly, to keep all you can and give away all you can."

The simplicity of it is amazing. But no more incredible than the senior Rockefeller's efficiency in other things. Friends recall that when he began building his Pocantico Hills mansion he put the sun to "work" for him. He demanded four things in his expensive home—light and air, beauty and comfort. In order to make sure of obtaining sunlight in his favorite rooms at such hours as he needed it, he ordered a small, boxlike structure to be built and placed upon a turntable in the exact center of his site. Ingeniously arranged mechanism made it possible for Mr. Rockefeller to seat himself in this "cage" and turn it about by means of levers. After weeks of experimenting he composed a timetable showing at what hour the sun would shine into each room of his new home.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, SR.

For instance, he wanted light in his dining room in the morning and again at night. The only time he insisted upon light in his den, or office, was between three and four in the afternoon. His bedroom he wanted dark between at certain hours of the day. "Sun dial" house was built accordingly and architects consider it a model of planning.

Since he has settled to a tranquil routine of golf and quiet philanthropy, the president emeritus of Standard Oil has passed his winters at Ormond Beach, Fla., his Spring season at Lakewood and the long days of summer on his 6,000-acre Pocantico Hills estate. Thus at eighty-nine he is still able to enjoy the elusive exercise of swinging at a golf ball, and although his diet is restricted he still has a good deal of latitude in choosing his meals.

Excavate Tombs 5,000 Years Old

How the ancient peoples of Ur and Chaldea lived and loved and fought 5,000 years ago were revealed by the University of Pennsylvania Museum expedition headed by Prof. C. Leonard Woolley, shown with Mrs. Woolley in the foreground of the picture at upper right, which includes the native excavators. The two photos at upper left show a silver rein-firing from a royal wagon and the sounding box of a harp inlaid with gold and lapis lazuli. Below is a statue of Queen Shub Ad, whose hairdress is curiously modern despite the barbaric ear trinkets; and, right, the Mosaic "standard of the kings of Ur," which depicts the army of the Sumerians and the king and royal family at a feast. The bottom picture shows the head of a bull, the workmanship being thin gold over wood. The beard indicates the statue was a religious symbol.

Why suffer with Rheumatism?

You know it cannot be rubbed away

ARE you one of those unfortunate ones who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered with rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best."—Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

WITH EVERY MILE your new car is driven, carbon is forming on the cylinder walls.

You know what carbon does. It causes as many different kinds of trouble in motoring as tartar on teeth causes in the human body. And the sound that warns of carbon is the "ping-ping-ping" of the engine "knock".

Use Refiners Ethyl Gas

You will never hear your engine "knock"—

The harmful effects of carbon will be neutralized—

And the carbon will become an actual benefit, raising the compression of your motor and giving you more power on hills, easier handling in traffic and greater satisfaction in motoring generally.

In fact, Refiners Ethyl works best in a car full of carbon!

Refiners Ethyl Gas is science's latest contribution to automotive progress. It ranks in importance with balloon tires and four-wheel brakes. It has no substitute among motor fuels.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
Open Letter from Hon. W. H. Van Fossan

Lisbon, Ohio, July 18, 1928

To My Friends of Columbiana County:—

Two years ago, you nominated and elected me as one of your State Representatives—an honor I greatly appreciate. Now I am a candidate for my SECOND TERM in that office, with two members, as before, to be chosen.

I trust my record as a whole has been satisfactory. With the experience of my first term to start with, I should be able to give still better service in the coming session of the Legislature. Let me renew the pledge I made when first a candidate: To give the best in me for the good of all the people of this county and of our great state.

Asking for your vote and for re-nomination at the Republican Primary, August 14, I am,

Yours very sincerely,
W. H. Van Fossan

MOVIES

"ACROSS TO SINGAPORE"

Ramon Novarro plays the leading role in this thrilling sea yarn, full of colorful sights and strange scenes of the Far East, at the State. He heads the powerful cast which includes Ernest Torrence, Joan Crawford, Dan Wolheim, Frank Currier, and James Mason.

The picture recounts the stirring adventures of Joel Shore (Novarro) and his brothers, Mark (Ernest Torrence) and Noah (Dan Wolheim), their deep love for one another, as they sailed and fought and loved their way across the seven seas.

Joan Crawford, as Priscilla Crownsfield, Mark's betrothed, involves Joel and Mark in a perplexing situation which is the basis of the tale. Both love the girl, while Priscilla loves Joel, the youngest of the Shore brothers.

"All the brothers were valiant," the unwritten understanding of all seamen, and the adage by which the brothers fought for each other despite conflicting romances introduces the solution to the problem, for Mark, despite the fact that he refuses to appreciate his younger brother, realizes that Priscilla loves not him, but Joel and in the climax of the story, gives his life for Joel.

Noah, the oldest brother is killed during a storm on the seas, and Joel is left as the last of the Shores, alone fighting his way through an oriental mob of cutthroats to save his life and that of his sweetheart.

"STEAMBOAT BILL JR."

As many laughs as can be crammed into seven thousand feet of film: romance, suspense, thrills—these are some of the elements which go to make up the comedy, "Steamboat Bill Jr." which stars Buster Keaton and presents a number of noted supporting players of the calibre of Ernest Torrence which opens tonight at the Grand.

"Steamboat Bill Jr." is different for it has a real story, with a logical development of plot, has recognized screen favorites in the supporting cast, and does not underestimate the intelligence of the audience.

The fast-moving story of river life presents Keaton at his funniest and Torrence in another interesting role. Photoplay-goers who invariably associate the noted character with villainous parts are due for a shock when they see him sharing laughs in his portrayal of Buster's hard-boiled, swashbuckling dad, a modern river pilot with a hatred for mollycoddles, and with a penchant for getting into trouble.

How his son, "Steamboat Bill Jr." as played by Keaton, turns from sap to hero, wins the town belle, de-

Before Baby Comes

"Mother's Friend" is a comfort to expectant mothers. Externally applied, it relieves prenatal distress by relaxing tight tissues and muscles. And it is so soothing. Its daily use makes the skin soft and pliable.

Three generations of mothers have praised "Mother's Friend." "I think it is worth its weight in gold," writes Mrs. Lelah Mabe, Lawsonville, N. C. "My baby was born without hardly any pain and it was all due to Mother's Friend."

Start using "Mother's Friend" tonight! It is sold by all drug stores. Write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (see in plain envelope). Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 23, Atlanta, Ga.

feats a gang of river rowdies intent upon ruining him, and finally rescues the entire community from a tornado and flood, forms a background for scores of mirthful situations.

The settings in the big comedy are as spectacular as the action itself.

A typical lower Mississippi river town suddenly given a new lease on life by a bitter war between rival steamboat owners! Thousands of townspeople taking sides in the feud! Buildings swept into the river by a cyclone! Large packets helpless in the storm! And a laugh a minute throughout the excitement, which starts with the first scene and reaches its climax in the wildest, funniest ending ever shown on the screen.

Marion Byron plays the leading feminine role Ernest Torrence is Steamboat Bill Sr. Keaton's father, with Tom McGuire and Tom Lewis playing major supporting roles.

The show will be featured at the Grand through the week with the comedy, "A Knight of Daze" and the serial "Melting Millions."

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, July 19.—Now that the good old summertime, when Old Sol really made his presence felt, seems to be a thing of the past, the summer evening wrap has become as much of a necessity as the frock itself, unless one wants to be shivering all evening.

The wide scarf of chiffon or lovely silk no longer suffice and nearly all of the dressmakers are showing a wrap with every evening gown, making a charming ensemble. But for those who cannot afford such a pleasant luxury, there are practical ones which can be worn with different frocks. Wraps of black chiffon velvet or gold brocade lame with collars of fur or shaggy ostrich feathers are always appropriate and serviceable.

Molyneux is showing one in black velvet which can be worn for autumn. It has a long cape at the back stitched down at one side and left to hang at the other and is trimmed about the neck and down the fronts with a wide band of white ermine. Poiret makes an original evening wrap with a Persian touch, of deep midnight blue satin brocade in small flowers of dull gold and red, lined with a deep rose-colored satin. It is made with long sleeves and straight back with full, godets at the sides, a plain round neck and fastened at the waist with three buttons from which hang little gold tassels.

Lame in the lighter pastel shades is very popular for the more festive type of evening wrap. One in pink and gold brocade comes lined with pink satin and has a deep mink collar. French blue taffeta makes another with a wide, horizontal stripe of gold brocade and collar of blue ostrich feathers. A simple wrap in pink chiffon velvet has for its outstanding feature the two loose panels which hang from the yoke of inverted tucks at the neck. Another very smart one in gold lame is lined with plain satin and covered all over with an applique of chintz flowers. It has a collar of soft brown fur.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Sandwiches for August Porch Teas

Sandwiches are especially popular for porch teas. It is a good idea to have a list of fillings at hand to vary the sandwiches if the same guests are entertained frequently. The different kinds of bread may be chosen as liked, always a day or two old, and the crusts neatly trimmed off. Boston brown bread should be cut rather thin, be well buttered, then spread with cream cheese mixed with chopped nuts, whipped cream to lighten and soften the cheese, and if the bread is carefully toasted and the filling spread on while it is hot, it is very delicious. This kind should be served as soon as ready. Soften the butter by whipping with a little cream, for spreading so it does not break the bread. Where lettuce is used wash, shake and wipe, or press away, the water. Chill and it is ready for use.

Chicken Liver Filling

Boil the needed number of chicken livers, hearts, and the tender parts of the gizzards. Chop fine, then mix to a paste with heavy mayonnaise. Add salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a dessertspoonful of chutney and a saltspoonful to sugar. Mix to a smooth paste and spread on whole wheat rounds. Cover with a very thin layer of currant jelly, or smooth applesauce, put on the top slice, cut in four pie-shaped pieces and garnish with a stuffed olive.

Tomato and Liver Filling

Prepare the liver paste as already directed then spread the top and bottom slices and lay a slice of fresh firm tomato in the middle that has been dipped in sharp French dressing. Rye bread is good with this filling.

Savory Cream Cheese Filling

Soften a fresh cream cheese with a little whipped or plain cream, add a little cayenne pepper, salt, a teaspoonful each of sugar and onion juice, and a heaping tablespoonful of chopped chives. Lay up on rye bread.

Carrot Sandwiches

Boil eight young carrots, after scraping and when very tender drain and mash them. Add a generous lump of butter, pepper, a little sugar, salt, a little whipped cream, and a tablespoonful of chopped chives or nasturtium seeds. Butter whole wheat slices with white mayonnaise, made without mustard, and spread with the carrot paste.

Years of Service in MODEL T FORDS

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five more years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

The labor charge for tuning up the motor is only $1. This includes replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon runs from $3 to $4. Overhauling carburetor, $1.50. Installing new pistons or connecting rods, $6. Tightening main bearings, $6. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have the motor and transmission completely overhauled.

The labor charge for replacing rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion or drive gear is $5. All sockets and joints of front end can be tightened for $1.50.

The steering gear can be completely overhauled for a labor charge of $3.50. Muffler repaired for $1.

The labor charge for repainting the Coupe is $25. Sedan, $25. Touring Car, $20. Top deck of Coupe or Sedan can be replaced for a labor charge of $4.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of reconditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

AL WILL ATTACK FINANCE MYTH

Governor to Hit Claims Of Prosperity Under Republican Rule

Albany, N. Y., July 19.—Gov. Al Smith will devote a considerable part of his speech he will deliver here next month in formally accepting the Democratic presidential nomination, to the financial condition of the national government.

The governor, according to his friends, will attempt to show the country that there is something of a "myth" in Republican claims of great economy at Washington.

Smith has bluntly charged on previous occasions that the handling of national finances by the Republicans has not been as well administered as the finances of New York state during the eight years he has been chief executive.

While the cost of New York state's government has increased more than 100,000,000 in the years that Gov. Smith has occupied the chair of chief executive, he contends that a large part of this was due to necessary state improvements which were held in abeyance during the World war. The governor also has repeatedly pointed to the fact that the appropriations always have been made by Republican legislatures.

VOL. 2

JULY 19, 1928

NO. 29

A certain business man of our acquaintance has been a summer widower for ten days or so, and brags that he hasn't had to wash a breakfast dish. He drinks milk out of the bottle, takes the toast off the toaster, and butters it from the butter package. Bananas are eaten from the peeling. The butter knife is held under the faucet, and breakfast is over. And everybody knows a coffee percolator should never be washed.

Lots of people use Goodyear Kant Kink garden hose, and a lot more wish they had, when they have to get a new one every year, because their's broke. We've plenty of it.

Before they were married he told her he would move heaven and earth for her. And now he's raising hell.

Ice cream is always good, but it is just a little better when it's home made. If this must be proven, come in and get one of our freezers (any size) and try it.

Here's a little reparation that happened in our own place of business the other day: "I can't hear myself think."

"Well, you're not missing much."

Nice grass crop, isn't there? Reminds me of the Kansas hypnotist who made his boy believe he was driving an automobile while he was running the lawn mower. Yes, say, dirty trick? No, he was using one of our easy cutters.

Some electric fans will cool any atmosphere specially designed. We have just the one you need.
